

Madeline Gulley

(512) 993-5390

madeline.gulley@tcu.edu mattie.gulley@gmail.com

Education

Texas A&M University, College Station, TX

May 2024

Bachelor of Arts, History

GPA: 3.862

Related Coursework: Advanced Military History Since 1900, Advanced Military History up to 1900, Civil War and Reconstruction, History of the Navy, American Military History, Paris at War, Eastern European History, Rise and Fall of Communism

Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, TX

Expected Graduation: May 2026

Master of Arts, History

Awards and Honors

Human Rights Certificate, Stanford University Summer 2019

Completion of human rights-centered courses for certification

Courses: Human Rights in World Literature, Genocide in the 20th Century

Order of Omega, Kappa Rho Chapter 2023

Honor society for members of sororities and fraternities at Texas A&M University

Dean's List Spring 2022, Fall 2022, Spring 2023, Fall 2023

Hertog War Studies Fellowship Summer 2023

Intensive two-week program concentrating on military history, theory, and strategy

Hertog War Studies Advanced Programs

Ten Crucial Days Campaign, Fall 2023

Battle of Antietam, Summer 2024

Leadership and Involvement

Kappa Delta Sorority August 2021 - Present

Vice President 2022-2023

- Manage attendance and meeting documentation
- Draft and distribute all chapter-wide communications
- Oversee all director and officer leadership positions with monthly leadership team meetings

Standards Board Member

- Attend all disciplinary meetings for chapter members
- Advise chapter leadership on appropriate sanctions and fines
- Work collaboratively with a six-person board

Presentations

Gulley, M., 2023, Harlem Hellfighters: Black Servicemen in WWI and Their Contributions to the Civil Rights Movement. Paper presented at the annual History Graduate Student Organization conference, College Station, TX.

Gulley, M., 2024, In Any Event, The Attack Was a Success: The American Experience of Coalition Warfare in Operation Torch. Paper presented at the annual History Graduate Student Organization Conference, College Station, TX.